- Dedicated incentive funds to subsidize energy efficiency projects
- Energy engineering and savings verification assistance
- Design review for energy efficiency improvements
- Retro-commissioning with utility data tracking to monitor savings and ensure persistence
- Greenhouse gas emission analysis
- Developing equipment specifications
- Assistance acquiring contractor services and obtaining project financing
- Customized workshops
- Referrals to self-generation, load management, and demand response resources

Community energy assistance may include:

- Local energy policies and programs (e.g. energy element of General Plans)
- Energy ordinances and codes
- Green procurement policy assistance
- Green building guidelines
- Community education initiatives

California consumers are not obligated to purchase any full fee service or other service not funded by this program. This program is funded by California utility ratepayers under the auspices of the California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC).
